It is Rumored That General Miles Has Met Defeat.

THE STORY IS NOT CREDITED.

Another Skirmish on the Battlefield of Wounded Knee—No Deaths Reported, However.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

ANOTHER BATTLE.

The News is Confirmed—The Battle Squad Attacked.

OMAHA, January 4th.—A special from Gordon, Neb., says:

Two scouts who have just arrived confirm the reports made last night of a battle north of this place. The fight was between Indians and a detachment sent out by General Miles from the Rosebud Agency to bury the dead.

The hostile Sioux, objecting to the burial of their dead, opened fire, and after a desperate and short struggle the hostiles were forced to return to the protection of the friendly warriors.

No deaths were reported.

WILL AVENGE SITTING BULL'S DEATH.

PORT YATES (N. D.), January 4th.—The battle between General Miles and the Sioux did not indicate how serious a defeat of the young bucks from the Standing Rock Agency had become.

The discovery was made on issue day that many did not come to the agency, and one of the friends said they were hiding themselves and gone to join the bands in revolt.

It is believed that there have been 1,000 troops of the Indians were made on issue day that many did not come to the agency, and one of the friends said they were hiding themselves and gone to join the bands in revolt.

At Grand River the Sioux have been fomenting trouble ever since the death of Sitting Bull, and they have not been slow to take advantage of the situation.

McLaughlin, "The" have been disposed to resent the killing at the "last opportunity." The dispatches at the time, which stated that the hostiles were rapidly moved in different directions to aid in quelling the uprising.

REMOVAL OF MILES DEFAT.

CHICAGO, January 4th.—Assistant Adjutant-General Corbin, upon a telegram from General Miles, left for the Indian country at 6 o'clock to-night.

In an interview with Corbin he was asked the effect that General Miles' command had met the hostiles and that General Miles had been killed.

He replied: "I think not; it is not at all certain that the Sioux have been defeated. I have been there before. By virtue of my rank I am Chief of Staff, and I have been there before. By virtue of my rank I am Chief of Staff, and I have been there before."

The only news received at headquarters this afternoon was a short message from Lieutenant Miles to General Miles. It was to the effect that the Sioux had been defeated and that the hostiles were rapidly moved in different directions to aid in quelling the uprising.

Scouts and police going good work.

WASHINGTON, January 4th.—The dissatisfaction of Indian Affairs has in response to a telegram sent to Agent Roger at Pine Ridge inquiring as to whether any of the Indian scouts or police have joined the hostiles, received the following reply from the agent of your enlisted scouts have joined hostiles. The police and scouts are rendering good service, and by their vigorous action have been able to keep the hostiles from burning the agency buildings.

A reporter tonight called the attention of Commissioner of Indian Affairs to reports from Pine Ridge, saying that the Sioux had been defeated and that the hostiles were rapidly moved in different directions to aid in quelling the uprising.

CALIFORNIA AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The RECORD-UNION has persistently and from the outset, contended that if California exhibits at the Columbian World's Fair, it must be by means of a cumulative exhibition; that to appropriate money for a distributive exhibition would be folly and waste.

The RECORD-UNION has set forth the reasons for this position with such force and clearness that they have been irresistible. It is very gratifying to know that the public mind has come into the same way of thinking and that the burden of public opinion now is in full accord with not only the cumulative exhibition idea, but with the further proposition that California's exhibition should be made in its own building, which should itself form a portion of the exhibit and be typical of the State.

Hon. M. M. Este, Chairman of the Committee on Legislation of the California World's Fair Association, and officially representing that Association, will in his behalf, ask the Legislature to make a proper appropriation for a cumulative exhibition at Chicago, and only upon that basis. Mr. Este declares that if such an exhibition is not permitted the Association will oppose the making of any appropriation whatever. But he adds that the concession will be made, since the Superintendent of Grounds has already telegraphed that California can have sufficient acreage for a building of its own.

The plan of the committee of the Association which Mr. Este represents is to ask for the appointment of seven citizens, distinguished by business ability, high character and notable manifestation of interest in the upbuilding of the State, to have complete control of the California exhibit. They are to receive no salary, but are to be allowed actual expenses of course. By another bill $300,000 will be asked for, and also an amendment to the County Government Act, so as to permit Boards of Supervisors to aid the local associations and committees in preparing county exhibitions to be part of the State exposition.

This is getting the World's Fair business into very good shape and very sensible form. We trust that the propositions will be considered calmly, in a broad State spirit, and looked upon as wise and economic investments, that, properly administered, will return us a thousand-fold of benefit.

IS THERE TO BE WAR?

There is but one construction possible to be put upon the news from Ottawa and London. We are told that the Canadian sealers have had notice to go on and in order for next season in Behring Sea, and that England will place there a sufficient force to protect them against any possible interference. There is given for this statement the names of the highest officials of the Dominion and of the home Government.

This means, then, that England will take no further steps toward amicably settling the Behring Sea difficulty; that she understands Mr. Blaine as opposed to any arbitration, since it would involve the necessity of conceding some rights we cannot abandon. The Dominion sealers are told, therefore, to go on and destroy the seals, exterminate the animal and break up a business in which two-thirds of the world feel an interest. The United States will be expected to send her ships into the sea to prevent poaching, and they will be met by English ironclads and then—war!

And this is to be the upshot of all this Behring Sea matter. Two of the greatest nations of the earth are to fight over it, and the stronger is to be conceded as having been in the right. There may be no help for it, but there should be. It is altogether discouraging to civilization that these nations should go to war to accommodate the greed of a few blue-eyed poachers. We cannot understand why Great Britain should be so stubborn in this matter. She has very little to gain out of it. She does not claim to own the marine territory, and she can have no interest in destroying the fisheries, as her course is bound to do. It would appear to be not so much a matter of principle, since she never has and does not dare to protect her sealers in invading the Russian side of what she claims is an open sea.

It is not a precedent she wants to establish, since there is no other place on the globe situated as is the marine territory referred to, or over which any such a controversy could possibly arise. It is English stupidity and pugnacity that is behind the whole matter. It is stupid to go to war about so little. It is boyish pugnacity to provoke a fight with so small cause for it.

On the part of the United States it is a very different matter. We purchased the marine territory of Russia. It was described by metes and bounds as marine territory. It had been so held and respected by our grantor for ninety years without once being disputed by England or any other country, save the United States, which was compelled by error and conscience to yield. Under that purchase we took and held the territory for twenty years more without our right being disputed. Now we are told that we must limit our claim to a strip within three marine leagues of our shores. That while it is true that the seals that breed upon our shores migrate from one chain of our islands to another to raise their families, the English will exercise the power to take the creatures while three leagues at sea, and not on land, after the manner of the English, by which selection is made, as required by law, and the propagation of the seals not destroyed.

And to carry out this policy England proposes to convey the Canadian seal poachers with ironclads and cruisers, and help them in their stealing expeditions by the use of powder and shot, which leaves to the United States but one course —to do the best we can to prevent poaching and if we are assaulted in our effort to arrest poachers, to strike back to the best advantage. As for the outcome of war no man can speak; only we do entertain the suspicion that if these counsels get in earnest things will become very unpleasant for the Canadas.

We are pleased to welcome our contemporary, the Bees, to the cause of good sewerage. The RECORD-UNION has been persistent and consistent in urging the subject upon the consideration of the people of the city for years. We renew our plea more the plan suggested a few weeks ago. That the Trustees raise a commission, of say fifteen citizens, who will agree, for what they owe the town, to through-live, to devote two years to thorough inquiry into the whole question of sewerage and the disposal of waste matter. That they shall get into communication with all the world, if need be, and compile all the experience of all the towns and cities of America and Europe upon drainage and disposal of waste matter. That they shall, from all the testimony taken, report what they deem the three best plans for a city situated as ours. Then the people will have something to discuss; there will be no groping in the dark; no waste of money in speculative experiments; no folly in trying new-fangled devices gotten up merely to sell. Certainly there can be found in this city ten or fifteen citizens who will consent to act as the recipients of the information secretary need not exceed $1,500. We could not expend money for a higher or more economic purpose. The result of such examination as the commission makes, would be worth to this city hundreds of thousands of dollars in coin, and countless benefits in the adoption of the very best possible system of disposing of sewage.

The plan is worth trial. We have entire confidence in its success.

The formation of a reaper and mower trust frightens Mr. Secretary Rusk, and well it may. He declares that as soon as its details are known the farmers will "kick," and that, unfortunately, the republican party will have to take the punishment. He declares that this new combination is going to sell mowers and reapers in Russia and Australia for less than they are sold for in the United States, and that when the farmers learn the fact they will kick up such a fuss as will stir the whole country to the bottom. He adds,

"I am as certain as I can be about anything that this reaper and mower trust is going to cost the Republican party some hundreds of thousands of votes." Mr.

Rusk is terribly alarmed, that is certain; he does not pause to tell us why such a condition of things is possible, but in saying that the Republican party is to take the punishment, he intimates that the Mc-Kinstry leader is at the bottom of it in the estimation of the farmers of the country. And they are not out of their way in their judgment. There are discovering that the anti-trust law does not work, and that the proposed protection does not protect as was promised, and hence the republican Rusk looks for. The truth is, and the whole country is awakening to the knowledge, that the party in Congress has been dominated in this whole tariff business by rings, trusts, manufacturing combinations, and all manner of unholy alliances to fill the pockets of the manufacturers.

Dr. W. J. ROLF, the accomplished

Shakespearean scholar, has gone after Mr.

Donnelly with many sharp switches. In the North American Review he fairly well demolishes the Hon. Donnelly's structure by showing that cryptographic work lacks the uniformity essential to the true cipher; that it has a multitude of starting points for every page, and that by counting down and up and across from so many "starters," one can figure out any words and phrases in the words on the page. Also, that it would be impossible to stop the bitter enemy of Bacon to charge such miserable "editing" to him as the folk edition was an example; if that no printer of the time could possibly have set up the type from any manuscript so as to print a match the cipher Mr. Donnelly assumes to have found. Further, that the plays in that edition bear all the earmarks of having been taken direct from the play-house to the printer, so much so that frequently the players' names appear instead of the names of the characters. There are but a few of the reasons that Dr. Rolf advances for disbelief in Donnelly's absurdity, but they are enough.

An inoffensive, respectable married woman of San Francisco, on a public street of that city, was set upon by a hood-lum, and so badly beaten that her physicians say it is of grave doubt if she can recover; that if she does not die, she will be a hopeless paralytic. Where is the woman's husband, that the hoodlum still lives? It has come to a high pass, indeed, when married women and maidens are to be knocked down upon the highway and beaten to death by thugs.
